

Linda Hamill-Mamo
Human Resources Director, Australia

Linda joined Microsoft in Singapore during 2010 as the HR Director for their Services group across Asia Pacific & Japan. This role was heavily focused on talent management, supporting the people side of change & business transformation for a group of over 5,000 employees based in 16 different countries. She has recently returned to Sydney to head up the HR function for Microsoft Australia where she is a core member of the Australian Executive team, partnering with the business to develop and deploy culture programmes & human resources strategies. Linda leads the Australia human resources team that delivers all HR programs across areas such as recruitment, talent management, performance optimisation, organisational development and compensation and benefits.

Linda has worked as an HR professional for over 20 years, the last 14 years within the IT industry and prior within the health and retail sectors. She holds a Master in HRM and a Bachelor of Social Science.